Those desiring to come to Maryville via the Knoxville Southern road can get off at Louisville and take Porter Kiddy Hackney running from there to this place every night and morning.

The publisher of this paper, in company with Capt. Hannum, John Armstrong, Sam George and F. H. Lammon and wife, took Christmas dinner with Dr. Jim Martin and excellent wife. The dinner was magnificent and greatly enjoyed by the invited guests.

Among those coming in and squaring up with the printer during the past week are Eli Huffstetler, of McKinley; Isabella Beals and Francis Hackney, of Friendsville; Elbert Kidd of Clover Hill; J. H. Brickey, of Tang; S. Levering, John Armstrong, and H. P. Huddleston, of this place. We thank all of the above for their promptness in paying and hope many more of our readers will follow their example.

We have made arrangements with American Farmer, the oldest Agricultural paper in America—published at Washington D. C., whereby we can furnish it with the TIMES for only $1.10, provided cash is paid in advance. This is not the farm journal we have been clubbing with for the past two or three years, that is the American Farmer and Farm News. Both are excellent publications and it would pay our farmers to take them both at that price and get a chance for a good plow.

Last week the following item was left out by mistake. One of the boilers of the Parham Woolen Mills came very near bursting and had it not have been for the prompt action and coolness of the Engineer, C. L. Henry, a serious accident might have been the result. He pulled out all of the fire from under the boiler and had all the machinery put in motion so that the power of the steam might be quickly used. A few hours work repaired the damage which was a small blister about the size of a man's hat, on the under side of the boiler. It is now as good as ever.

We can furnish our readers the Memphis Commercial Appeal and the TIMES, when paid in advance for only 1.30. This offer is good only to May 1, 1895. At the time you subscribe you can send in a guess as to the number of bales of cotton received in Memphis from September 1, 1894 to May 15, 1895. The one guessing nearest the number, will, if their guess is sent in this month receive a cash prize of $3,000. If in January, the one coming the nearest will receive $2,500. If in February 1,000. If in March, $1,000. If in April $500. Pay in advance now and get a chance to draw $3,000 cash. You will also get a ticket which will give you a chance to secure a good plow.

We have a box of tickets in our office and if you pay one year in advance for the TIMES you can take one of these tickets on which there will be a number. We have three good Avery plows Nos. 20 and 30. The number on three of these tickets will call for one plow so three who pay in advance will get a good plow for only $1. It may be you. In addition to that, you can get a good farm paper for only 10 cents extra. You can get the N. Y. Tribune for only 30cts extra. The Chicago Inter Ocean for 35cts extra. The Toledo Blade for only 75cts and any other paper on our clubbing list at a very low price by paying in advance. Do you want a plow or any of these excellent papers? If you do, come in and pay in advance for the TIMES.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

The M. F. Congregation was glad to have their pastor, Rev. J. C. Wright with them last Sabbath. He was able to preach, though still suffering from the effects of his fall.

Rev. Sexton is having great success in the revival at the Friends Church. Quite a number of conversions have resulted so far and many more are expected to confess their sins and acknowledge God, before the meeting closes.

The Presbyterian Sunday School gave a Christmas tree and a Santa Claus Contata at the Columbian Hall Christmas Eve. The exercises were quite enjoyable.

The Baptist Sunday School gave an Entertainment Christmas night, consisting of recitations, dialogues and tableaux. The large audience seemed to appreciate the exercises.

New Providence Presbyterian Church. FRANK E. MOORE, Pastor.

Next Saturday evening the Westminster League meets in the last Consecration meeting of the year. Many will necessarily be absent, so let those who are at home make a special effort to be present and make this the most enjoyable and profitable meeting of the year.

A number of our young men have agreed to spend a day in the woods securing trees to be planted along the church-yard fence. This is certainly a commendable service. We would be pleased to see such work forwarded until all our side walks are shaded with beautiful forest trees.

A surprise wedding took place Christmas Eve. Prof. LeRoy Warfel and Miss Cenith Moore, were made one at the home of the bride's parents on Indiana Ave. Dr. S. T. Wilson performed the ceremony. Mr. Warfel is a young man of strict integrity and good ability. He has charge of the business department of the college and is greatly esteemed by all. The bride is the youngest daughter of Esq. J. D. Moore; a graduate of Maryville College, and is highly thought of, by a very large circle of friends. The TIMES wishes them long life and much happiness.

Last Thursday, Gussie Lee Ambrister, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ambrister died after two week sickness at their home on College Street. The little girl by her sweet and winning ways was a great favorite of all who knew her and many friends extend their heartfelt and sincere sympathy to the bereaved and sorrowing parents. Her innocent and pure soul has taken its flight to that fairer and better land and the parents can be consoled with the thought that He, who took little children in his arms here on earth, and blessed them, will take little Gussie in his arms up there bless her, shield her from all harm and teach her the songs of the angels so that her sweet voice can lead the choir of heavenly singers when she welcomes her dear parents, brother and sisters to that beautiful home of the soul. Dr. Bartlett and Prof. Goff conducted the funeral services.

Womankind.

For Woman and Home. Woman-kind appeals to the tastes of the great mass of people; its editors aim to fill it with such bright stories, clever poems, interesting sketches, helpful hints and suggestions that no woman can afford to be without it. "Sensible Wear," "Motherhood," "Bright Homes," "Woman's Progress," "Child Life," "Floral," "Women of the Day," etc. are a few of its interesting departments. It is sensible and practical in all things; "Able, Bright and Clean," is its motto, and that's the reason it is the favorite paper for Woman. Pay in advance for the TIMES and get this paper for only 10 cents.

A Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us in our late affliction, the sickness and death of our little girl, Gussie. —Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ambrister.

A Lively Trade.

The Christmas trade seemed to be lively, especially to those merchants advertising in the TIMES, while we heard some who didn't advertise complaining of this being a dull year.

Uncle Bob Magill had an extra force of clerks and it kept them all jumping to supply his customers.

Geo Toole also had extra help and all week they was so busy they could hardly spare time for meals.

J. W. Newby and Son as usual had a good lively trade although making no specialty of holiday goods.

Bittle, Webb and Co., while not having a special line of goods for the holiday trade, had a splendid patronage and sold many substantial presents.

Advertising pays as all of the above can testify.

Stand by the American Hen.

Farmers must bear in mind that poultry is the most profitable industry of the farm. The poltry should be carefully bred and cared for. This industry should receive more attention and the stock, like that of cattle, horses, hogs and sheep, improved. The Inter-State Poultryman, a Journal devoted entirely to the culture and care of poultry, should be in the hands of every farmer. We have made arrangements to club this valuable Journal with the TIMES and will furnish the two papers for $1.10. Subscription taken at this office. Those in arrears can take advantage of the offer by paying what they owe and one year in advance.

The American Farm News.

For the Farmer and his family. This monthly has gained its immense circulation, solely on its merits as a journal for the practical farmer. It aims to present to its readers such articles as will be of practical assistance to them in their daily work on the farm. Every department of the farm is represented, orchard, field and garden; barn, granary and the parlor—it is pre-eminently the paper for the farmer and his family. Pay in advance for the TIMES and get this paper for only 10 cents.

Cigarette Law

In view of injurious and often fatal effects of cigarette smoking, especially upon the young, the law makes of our state have wisely passed a law, to prevent their being sold or given, to minors. Section first of the law says. That it shall be a misdemeanor for any person, firm or corporation to sell give or furnish any cigarettes, cigarette paper, or any substitute for the same, to any minor in the state.

Section 2 fixes the fine on conviction, at not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

Section 3 makes it the duty of judges to give the matter a special charge to grand-juries and they may call before them any one supposed to have knowledge of violations of this law.

That this law is continually violated in our town is plainly manifest, and persons who claim to be law abiding, and who doubtless are in other respects are certainly remiss in this.

Let us hope that the violations hitherto have been the result of ignorance rather than intent, and that for the sake of the rising generation, as well as for the sake of our good name as a law abiding people there may be no further cause of complaint.

The closing exercise of the Maryville City school was greeted by a full house and every one present declared it to be the finest ever held in the City. The teachers M. L. Lillard and Miss L. Lawrence deserve great credit for they have worked faithfully these five months and the exercise last Friday showed some of the results of their work. We should be proud of the talent displayed by some of these fine ones, great things are in store for some of them, all they require is the right training.
